

Le nom de ma famille c'est TRAORE, les guerriers

Je suis parti de Cote d'Ivoire en 2008. Je n'ai pas quitté la Cote d'Ivoire par ma propre volonté. Mon frère a été indexé par les militaires et ils ont essayé de bousculer un peu ma famille donc que chacun est en fuite. On s'est retrouvé éparpillé.

Les deux mêmes parce qu'ils font la musique ils disent que c'est plus facile de trouver une bonne position en France. Ça fait 15 ans qu'ils vivent en France.

Je suis arrivé ici sans connaître quelqu'un. Comme il y a beaucoup de centres d'accueil, je suis allé dans un centre, ils m'ont accueilli à bras ouverts. Après je suis parti, quand j'ai eu du travail, j'ai pris ma maison.

Je préfère vivre à Palermo parce que c'est la grande ville il y a beaucoup d'opportunités dans les grandes villes. Par contre dans les petites villes les chances sont peu, ce n'est pas facile.

... par rapport à chez moi, franchement, je ne sais pas s'il y a pas une grande différence. Simplement c'est ma famille qui me manque, c'est tout

Balardo c'est un petit marché qui vend les fruits. Et la manière de faire ces marchés là c'est propre de l'Afrique, les prix sont faits sur place. Par rapport à un marché du nord, il y a la différence, tu vas acheter quelque chose à Torino ou à Milan, à Roma, et ils vont te donner un reçu.

Et à la Vuccheria, on se retrouve, il y a une boutique de viande d'un ami qui est là, on se retrouve là-bas et on fait la fête.
